

Washington Letter.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7th, 1896.

Not satisfied that himself and every member of his cabinet should oppose the regular democratic ticket, President Cleveland wants all of the other democratic officials to do likewise, and it has been semi-officially stated that he intends to ask for the resignation of every government official who publicly supports Bryan and Sewall. It is not likely, however, that this will deter any official who wishes to support Bryan and Sewall from doing so. They are few democrats who will allow a few months of office holding to stand in the way of their exercising the right of every American, to talk and vote for the principles he believes in, and already several prominent officials, among them Hon. Scott Wike, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury; Deputy Perry, Commissioner Bell, and Auditor Baldwin are making speeches for Bryan and Sewall.

The interstate democratic association, of Washington, held a rousing Bryan and Sewall mass meeting—their second—Saturday night, which was presided over by Capt. William Bartlett, Department Commander of the G. A. R., of New York, a republican who is supporting Bryan and silver.

Representative Sulzer, of New York says in a letter to the democratic Congressional Committee: "The campaign in the state is progressing quietly but energetically. It is being made by the clubs and by labor organizations, and the friends of the plain people generally, regardless of the attitude of prominent state leaders. I have made several trips through the state, and have had long talks with prominent democrats in all parts, and I believe that with the proper efforts, the state of New York can be carried this fall. After the State Convention (to be held Sept. 17th) no doubt the campaign will assume a more enthusiastic aspect, and many who are now silent will then come to the front."

Representative Wheeler, of Alabama, thus sizes up the Palmer and Buckner ticket: "There isn't much to recommend it, and it will not stir the voters to enthusiasm. In the long run it will do McKinley more harm than good, because it will get votes in the North that would otherwise have gone to the republican candidates. In the South, Bryan will have too big a margin to miss the handful of voters that will go to Palmer. The South is once more solid."

Mr. Robert B. Palmer, editor of the State Register, Washington, C. H., Ohio, said while visiting Washington: "In my county, which is a splendid agricultural region, the feeling is strong for free coinage, and it is by no means confined to the democrats. Any number of silver clubs have been formed and every one has in its membership a goodly per cent of men who have invariably voted the republican ticket. This is not hearsay for I know personally scores of such men. In addition to this, republican orators are taking the stump for Bryan and are doing excellent missionary work. Bolting sound money democrats are extremely — with us."

The democrats of Washington intend making the Bryan and Sewall ratification meeting to be held on the afternoon of the 19th inst. one of the biggest affairs of the kind ever held at the National capital. Arrangements are now being made to run special excursion trains from Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, and it will not be surprising if Mr. Bryan shall be greeted on that occasion by a larger crowd than he has spoken to at any of the places he has visited since his nomination.

A letter has been received at democratic headquarters from R. A. Watkins, a prominent lawyer, of Lancaster, Wis., which answers the republican assertion that silver sentiment is dying out in that state. Mr. Watkins writes: "The situation in Wisconsin is very favorable, and quite as good, if not better, for the democracy than it was at this period of the campaign of 1892, when we carried the state. The so called silver craze is not dying out here, our republican friends to the contrary notwithstanding."

Hon. Spencer Jones, Chairman of the Maryland State Democratic Committee, says of the outlook in that state: "I am more and more convinced every day as the campaign progresses, that Maryland will elect Bryan and Sewall electors by a large majority. We are gaining more republicans than we shall lose democrats. The Palmer and Buckner electoral ticket, if one is put up, will not cost Bryan a single vote. I should like to see the third electoral ticket named as we could then find out how many democrats bolt the ticket." While Mr. Jones didn't say so, it may be inferred that the rank and file of the party, in Maryland, as well as in other states, will know what future use to make of a roster of the bolting democrats.

Our Chapel Hill Letter

[Special correspondence to THE TIMES.]

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.

Sept. 7th 1896.

The State University formally opened its doors last Tuesday morning when the first examinations were held for the removal of conditions from the record of old students, and examinations of new men for admission into college. In the morning at 9 o'clock at the ringing of the college bell all the Freshmen assembled in Gerard Hall where they were assigned to the recitation rooms where the different examinations were held.

Thursday September 3rd.—The Registration of Students began. All day Thursday and Friday a large crowd awaited outside the President's office for their turn to register and arrange their courses for the year.

Saturday September 5th.—The dormitories then unoccupied and not registered for, by the students who formerly held them, were assigned to the new students.

This morning lectures began. The regular routine of college life commenced with the ringing of the old college bell at 8.15, calling the students to prayers in the University chapel.

About three hundred and fifty students have already registered and there are many on the Hill who have failed to do so at this time. Many new arrivals are expected this week.

Wilson is well represented at the University this year. There are nine gentlemen in the classes as follows: in 97 H. G. Connor Jr.; in 98 P. D. Gold, Jr.; in 99 Robert Connor and Henry Meredith; in 1900 Graham Woodard, Sam Clark, Giles Winstead, Needham Ward and Ashe Hines.

hands with her sister States in urging his nomination. The roll-call immediately developed an overwhelming majority in favor of Senator Palmer, but it proceeded to the end. Palmer received 757 votes, and Bragg 124. At its conclusion, the commander of the iron brigade mounted a chair, and in a brief but graceful speech moved that the nomination be made unanimous and pledged that he and Wisconsin in the coming battle would be where brave soldiers should always be, nearest the flashing of the guns.

He was given three hearty cheers and General Palmer was declared the nominee amid an enthusiastic demonstration, during which the State guidons were carried about the hall in the wake of the standard of Illinois. There never was any doubt about Gen. Buckner's nomination for Vice-President except while the nomination was being talked of for Senator Palmer for President. When Chairman Caffery instructed the Secretary to call the States for nominations for Vice-President, the latter called but one State, "Kentucky" and the band struck up "My Old Kentucky" Home." Wm. F. Brodner, of Russellville, Kentucky, placed Gen. Buckner's name before the convention, and the nomination was forthwith made unanimous. After the convention had adjourned, Senator Palmer succumbed. He said he would accept.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3.—The platform adopted by the convention declares for a single gold standard with such subsidiary coinage as is necessary without disturbing the parity. It does not maintain international agreement and makes no reference to the income tax. The tariff plank, outside of phraseology, is the same as the main plank in the Maine "sound money" platform. There is no minority report. The platform in full is as follows:

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3.—The following is the exact text of the correspondence which passed between D. G. Griffin, chairman of the New York delegation and President Cleveland:

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3.—To Hon. Grover Cleveland:

"You will be nominated to-morrow unless you make a definite refusal. Strongly urge that you communicate privately to be used publicly if need with some friend on the ground. Otherwise from every indication you will be nominated by acclamation."

"D. G. GRIFFIN."

Buzzard's Bay, N. Y., Sept. 3.—To

Daniel Gr. Griffin, chairman New York delegation, Indianapolis, Ind.

"My judgment and personal indications are so unalterably opposed to your suggestion that I cannot for a moment entertain it."
